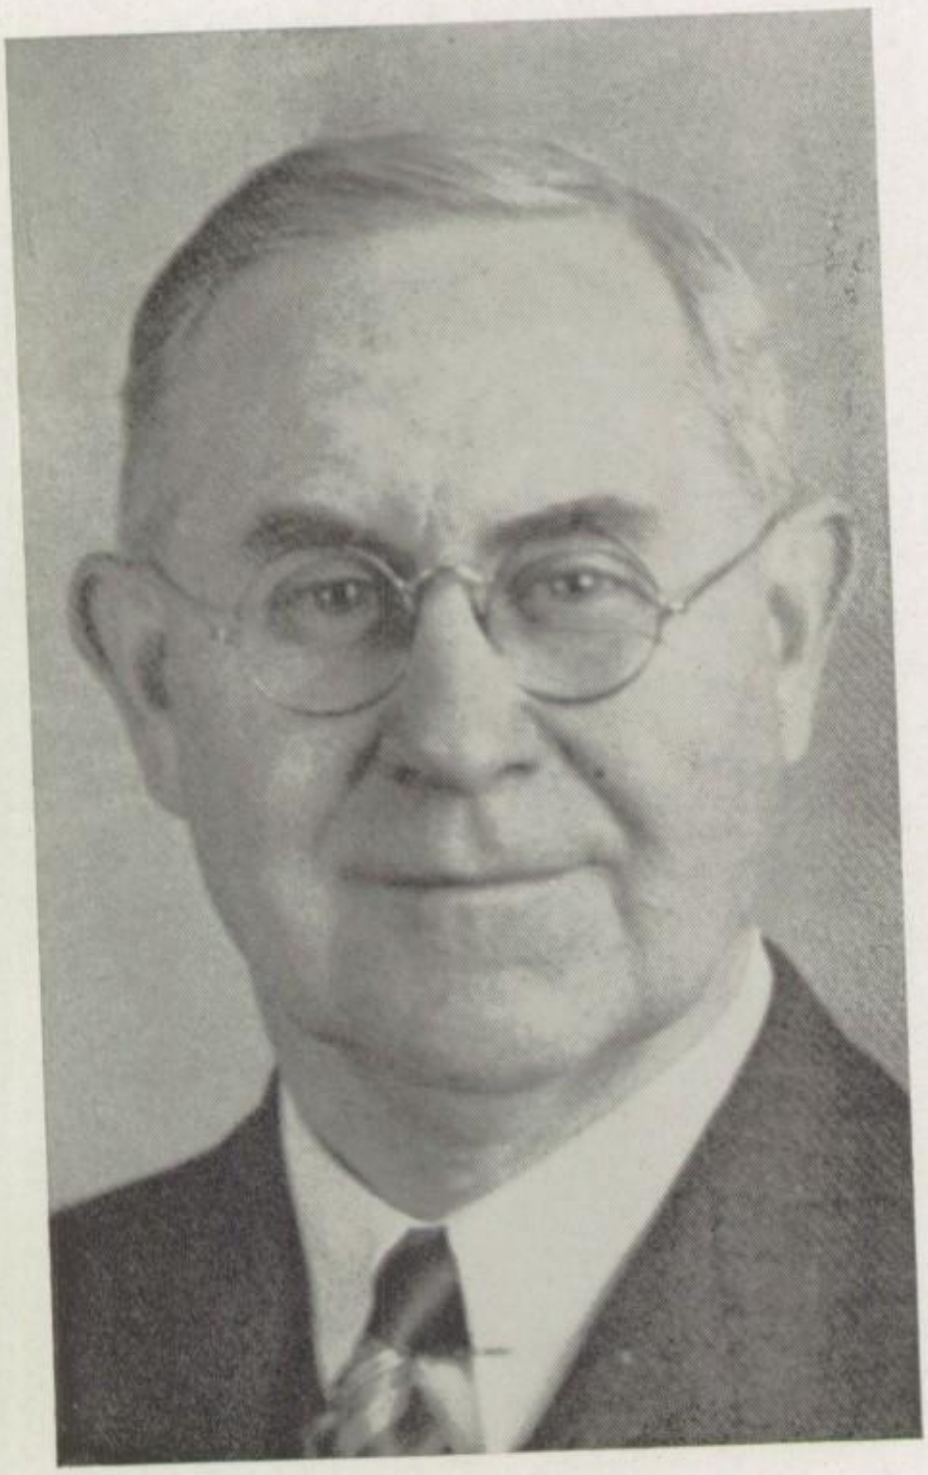
Adviser ..... Fred W. Leist

In Dedication To . . .



Mr. Fred W. Leist

Mr. Fred W. Leist

Behind the scenes in the publication of the McKinleyite for the last fifteen years, Mr. Leist through his efficiency has proven himself invaluable as the adviser to the business staff. In addition to the various tasks involved in keeping the ledger balanced, he has managed to take the part of staff photographer, producing many fine pictures of the school and its activities. His activities as faculty adviser to the business staff also cover the publication of the Times, the school's weekly newspaper.

Proudly, the staff of the McKinleyite dedicates their 1945 edition to a deserving member of our faculty, Mr. Fred W. Leist.

Mr. Jesse H. Mason

Superintendent of Schools

Holding the office of superintendent of schools is a very responsible position, and filling it is Canton's very able superintendent, Mr. Jesse H. Mason. Forever endeavoring to raise the standards of education in Canton's schools, Mr. Mason has done much in building up our fine system. His thoughtfulness for others, friendly advice, and guidance have aided many students in deciding their future life's work.

Mr. J. L. G. Pottorf

Mr. J. L. G. Pottorf

Principal

Through McKinley's halls have entered and departed nearly twenty-five thousand students, some of whom are public officials and others of whom have become influential citizens of the community. During the four years each has spent in McKinley one familiar figure was always present to lend a helping hand in setting his students on the right track. Ending his twenty-seventh year as principal of McKinley, Mr. Pottorf can look back on an enviable record which his school has produced in all phases of scholastic competition.

McKinley's debt to Mr. J. L. G. Pottorf can never be repaid for he has devoted himself to making McKinley High School one of the finest high schools in the country.

Mr. L. W. Paker

Mr. Lewis W. Baker

Vice-principal

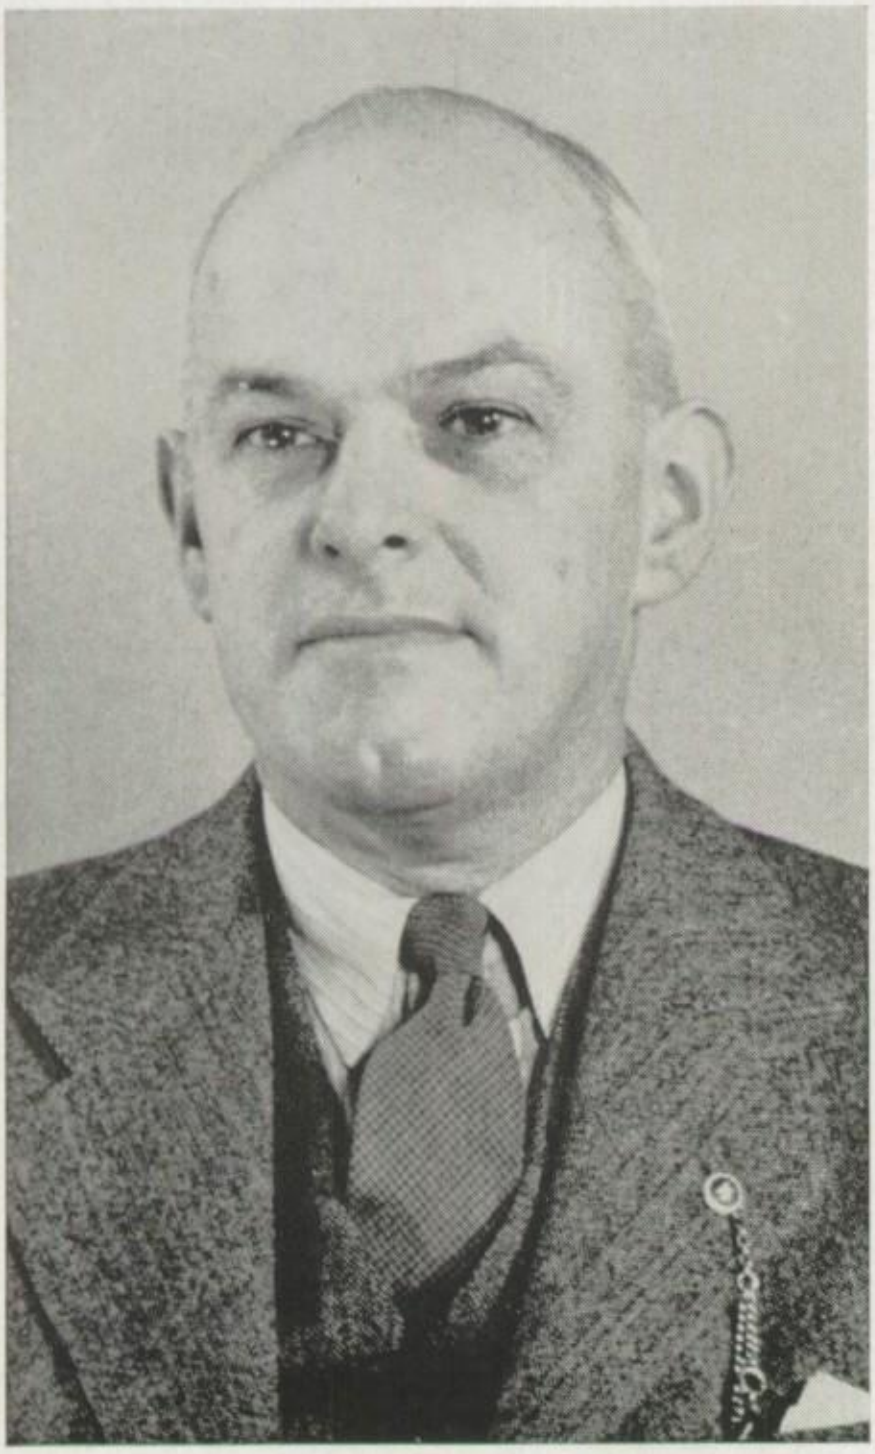
Assuming the vice-principal's responsibilities for the first time, Mr. Lewis W. Baker has proven himself well able to fill the second highest position in McKinley High School. Previous to his present position, Mr. Baker had charge of the attendance office, and for many years he has been co-sponsor of McKinley's National Honor Society. Seeing that everything is running smoothly, Mr. Baker is always on the alert to give his assistance wherever and whenever it is needed.

Mr. I. W. Delp

Supervisor of High Schools

Filling the position of supervisor of high schools, a newly created post in Canton's school system, is Mr. I. W. Delp, a former McKinley teacher and formerly the principal of Lehman High School. Assuming his duties the first part of the year, Mr. Delp succeeded the late Mr. H. W. Benedict and has worked speedily and efficiently in preparing a city-wide program for Canton's high schools.

Mr. I. W. Delp



Mr. H. W. Benedict

In Memoriam to . . .

Mr. H. W. Benedict

Sadly McKinley High School bade farewell to one of its former faculty members. The death of Mr. H. W. Benedict, former vice principal for twenty-one years, came as a shock to McKinley, for during the years which he spent here he had become a well-loved figure. In 1944 he was given the position of supervisor of high schools in recognition of the fine work he had done while in McKinley. His passing was a great loss, not only to McKinley, but to the whole city, for he ranked highly among Canton's educators and civic leaders.

student council, class of '45

The senior council, elected at the beginning of the year by their fellow students, had a great many duties to perform. Among their tasks were collecting class dues, distributing tickets for the two parties and the Prom, taking orders for commencement announcements and supervising the election of the senior class officers.

Tall, blond Earl Fredericks, annual artist, was chosen president. This is the highest office to which a student can be elected and he fulfilled his duties with great skill. Steve Orfanedes, our track star, was elected vice-president; Joanne Roach, who was president of the Girls' Booster Club, was secretary, and Ginny Reis, Times editor, was treasurer.

student committees, class of '45

Holding their parties again with the junior class, the work involved was divided so that the senior committees had charge of the first party.

"Moonlight Fantasy" was the party theme and the decorating committee created the atmosphere with pink elephants and misty clouds. A variety program was presented which included musical solos, tumbling, a tap dance and a short skit. This first party was held November tenth and dancing was to the music of Eddie Jeunemann's orchestra.

At the second party on the sixteenth of March, the junior committees took over, with only the Senior Refreshment Committee active. Their motif was "Spring" and Charlie Gattuso furnished the dance music.

guardians,class of '45

During the four years that this class had been at McKinley they were under the supervision of a committee of faculty members called the class guardians.

This committee was directed by Mr. J. R. Barnes with Mr. C. L. Riley acting as his assistant.

Miss Margaretta Eckis was in charge of the refreshment committee, Miss Mary Hanna directed the entertainment committee, while Miss Kathleen Smith worked with the decorating committee. Miss Elizabeth Motschman had charge of the dance programs.

Besides these specific tasks, Mr. Paul Barkley, Miss Leota Clarke, Mr. C. E. Littell and Mr. Otto Weedman were on hand to give aid wherever it was needed.

student hallguard chairmen

One of the most important duties of the seniors is to maintain order in the halls during the day by the use of hallguards. Mr. Lee Pancake chose the hallguard chairmen and supervised them in regard to their duties.

These chairmen are seniors with but a few exceptions. The chairman of each period chooses twelve reliable students and posts one at each corner of the three floors. These hallguards stop everyone passing his post, except faculty members, and demand a hall slip. This system prevents the practice of "wandering the halls" and maintains the peaceful atmosphere enjoyed at McKinley.

These years, all four, passed like the wind,
With operetta, play, and debate,
Not only in swimming but also in speech,
We rated first in the state.

Could we forget our football fame,
The track and basketball teams—
The honors claimed and victories won,
For which every student dreams?

We've learned to see opportunity,
To reach out and to take it—
But this we learned above all else,
That—"Life is what you make it."

Every student has had a chance,
To develop his or her skill
To, in the better world of tomorrow,
Suit the places we'll fill.

So, happy with maybe a tear or two,
We wave good-bye and depart,
With a treasure chest of memories,
That will live in every heart.

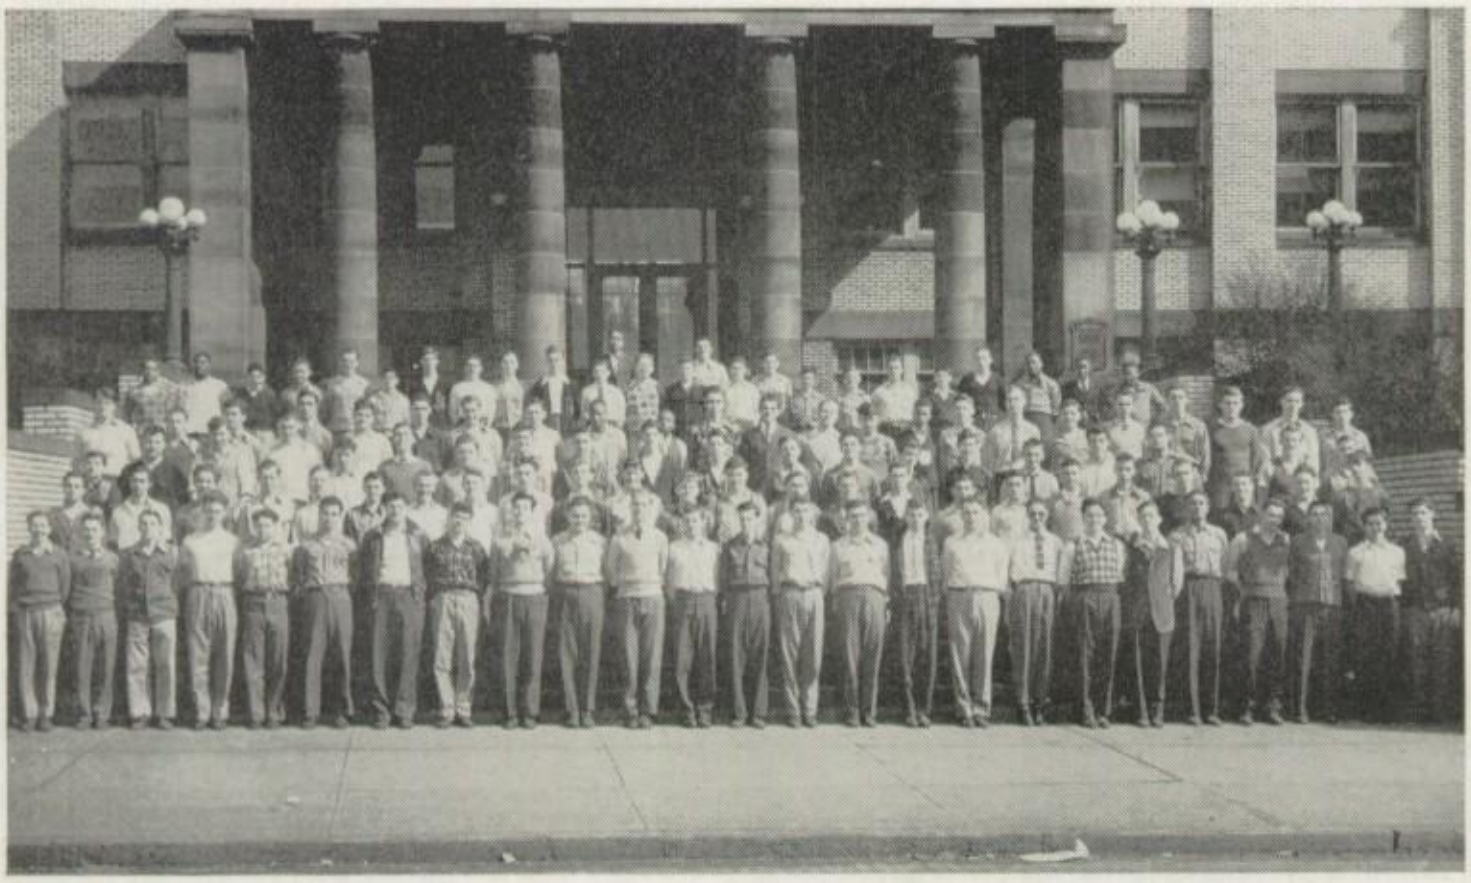
student council and committees, class of '46

Council members are chosen by the various homerooms to represent them at council meetings and to make decisions regarding class affairs. These members are aided in this work by a faculty committee of guardians. This committee is headed by Mr. Ulysses Lawrence and includes Mr. Ralph Buchanan, Miss Ruth Erdman, Miss Jane Foltz, Mr. C. T. Branin, Miss Ida Galbreath, Mr. Glenn Goss, Mr. W. W. Lanning, Miss Lula Perry, and Miss Edna Shumaker.

Early in the school year the council supervised the election of class officers at which time Charles Carter was elected president; Bill Messenheimer, vice-president; Harold McCoy, secretary, and Stuart Fisher, treasurer.



boys, class of '46

Since the upper classes held both their parties jointly, members of the various committees had to work at only one party.

At the "Moonlight Fantasy" on November tenth only the refreshment committee worked. The rest of the party was planned by senior committees.

When the second party arrived the rest of the committees began working on decorations and the program. They selected the general topic of Spring for this party as it was held on March sixteenth, very near to the first day of spring. Decorations followed a spring motif and the program consisted of humorous skits on familiar songs.

girls, class of '46

Members of this class made their presence known in practically all of McKinley's numerous activities.

Bob Lilly and Clair Bundy were two of the most prominent juniors in athletics. Both of them were on the first teams in football and basketball.

The only junior on the debate squad was Dick Hinterleiter. This was Dick's second year on the varsity team.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, characters in the fall play, "Old Doc," were smoothly portrayed by Beverly Bruell and Don Halter, members of the junior class.

In the choral department Frances Jakmides gave a very fine performance as Susan, the flighty secretary in "The Desert Song."

A few of these honor roll students gained the coveted honor of being elected to National Honor Society during their junior year. This is indeed a great honor for only those with the highest averages were chosen. The rest of them are dreaming of the time next year when they too will have that coveted honor.

Congratulations to all these students for their fine work in maintaining their high averages while participating in extracurricular activities at the same time.

Members of this class began coming into prominence in various activities.

Pete Spera and Bob Tucci were recognized in athletics. Pete played a fast game on the varsity basketball squad and Bob was on the first team in football.

In speech perhaps the most outstanding sophomore was Jim Titus. With the humorous declamation "Green Pastures" Jim took second place in the district speech contest. In debate Louis Fernandez became a member of the varsity team.

"Old Doc", the fall play, had in its cast a sophomore, Tillie Zigorean, who performed her part with great sincerity and talent.

Sophomores trotted out at seven thirty on the ninth of December to their "Winter Follies". The music room was transferred by the hard-working committee members into a fantasy of green and white. The program consisted largely of musical numbers. Being conservative souls they did their dancing to recorded music in order to be able to afford an orchestra during their junior and senior years.

On the thirteenth of April the second party was held to complete their total whirl for the year.

Among their many duties was the supervision of the election of class officers. To lead their class Lee Howell, president; Eddie Cobett, vice-president; Joyce Adams, secretary; and Roy Brown, treasurer, were chosen.

honor roll students, class of '47

Each class has its group of honor roll students. These are the ones who have maintained an average of ninety per cent in all subjects during the year. One might think that honor roll students do nothing but study. This, however, is not the case. Many students of this group are active in various fields of extra curricular activity such as band, choral club and speech.

This concludes the report on sophomores' activities during the year. Just one more thing remains. It is to console them with the thought that next year they will be upperclassmen and will be able to take their place among the immortals who have made the grade.

Several members of the class were outstanding in their chosen activities. Four foot eleven Frances Mellas, vice-president of the class, gained recognition when she appeared in the annual operetta and performed two solo dances.

Another member of the class gained distinction in the field of debate. Richard Hostetler became a member of the varsity debate team and at the same time became the only freshman ever to become a member of a McKinley varsity debate squad.

The first party of the freshman class is always held in the form of a tea dance after school. Committee members chose "White Christmas" as the theme of the first party on December the thirteenth. The decorating committee helped to create this illusion, with their figures of skating snowmen and other Christmas decorations.

In April having progressed to the status of an evening party, they held their second party on the twenty-seventh. This affair climaxed their social season for the year.

coaching staff experiences successful season

Leading McKinley's athletes to one of the finest seasons experienced, the Bulldog coaching staff has proven itself capable of turning out fine material. "Bup" Rearick, head coach, turned out fine squads in football and basketball, both teams being defeated but once in their regular season. The basketball squad advanced to the state semi-finals where they were nudged out of the finals by a 29-28 score. Our grid stars claimed their right to the mythical state championship by virtue of a 27-0 victory over our arch-rivals, Massillon, despite a 27-26 loss to Warren. The reserve squads displayed fine talent under the expert eyes of coaches "Red" Rittersbaugh, "Chuck" Wright, and Glenn Goss, the freshman basketball team winning the district championship. Track, baseball, and golf, the spring sports, appear to be headed for a good season under coaches Rearick, Rittersbaugh, Wright, and Branin.

Mr. T. B. Jackman, faculty manager, deserves a special word of mention for the fine work he does in managing the athletic department. Aside from handling the finances of the athletic department, he arranges all scheduled games between McKinley and other schools.

With a lightning ground attack, which included some very tricky running by Clair Bundy, another McKinley Bulldog eleven launched its football season with a rousing victory as they ran over the Akron South Cavaliers 59-0 under the lights of Fawcett Stadium.

Getting off to a fair start, McKinley scored three touchdowns in the first half but came back to cross the South goal line for six touchdowns in the third and forth stanzas.

Scoring honors went to our brilliant back, Joe Pujazon, who hit "pay dirt" three times. Admirable performances were also turned in by Hank Smith, and Clair Bundy, each scoring twice, and Herm Lombardi and Gordon Cook, who tallied one apiece.

Power-laden and bent on winning it's second victory, an aggressive McKinley squad treked to the Youngstown South fieldhouse and gave a comparatively light Wilson aggregation a 59-0 trouncing. Running over and around the hopeless Wilson squad time after time, Coach Rearick's boys found very little opposition in taking the second contest of the season.

Joe Pujazon, spark plug of the McKinley team accounted for one touchdown, setting up three others. Scoring honors went to Hank Smith, who crossed the goal three times. Danny Lepore scored two touchdowns, "Butch" Korosedes and Gordon Cook tallying one each.

McKinley took their third contest of the season from a fighting Timken team, 39-6, before 13,000 at Fawcett Stadium.

The Bulldogs got off to a slow start scoring only once in the first period on a 78 yard run by Herm Lombardi. Jim Rawers scored the only other McKinley touchdowns in the first half when he gathered in a pass from Joe Pujazon.

However, the second half saw a much snappier Bulldog squad on the field with Hank Smith picking up two touchdowns on two 41 yard runs. Taking a pass from Pujazon in the final quarter, Dick Meacham raced over for McKinley's fifth tally. Lombardi closed the scoring when he crossed from the one yard stripe after Timken fumbled on their own 10.

Timken tallied its only score in the third period, the first score against the Bulldogs this season.

The mighty McKinley gridders suffered their only defeat of the season at the hands of a very tough, but highly inconsistent, Warren team before 16,000 at Fawcett Stadium. Socring three touchdowns, McKinley held a 19-0 lead at the end of the first half, but it was a different Warren eleven that come out in the third quarter.

Fighting all the way, McKinley was forced to cede to the Presidents three touchdowns in the third period and one early in the fourth. The Bulldogs only other score came in the third quarter, but fumbles and failure to kick extra points cost McKinley the game. Outrunning and outfoxing a brilliant Lincoln team, the McKinley Bulldogs displayed a beautiful running and passing attack to swing back on the victory trail and win their fourth game out of five starts, 21-0. A tense crowd of 10,000 saw a bitterly contested battle, the Lions playing beautiful defensive ball, but unable to withstand the fierce McKinley offensive onslaught. The Lions gained only the McKinley 20 yard line in their farthest advance.

McKinley scored but one touchdown in the first half, Hank Smith carrying the ball, and two in the last half, Joe Pujazon and Herm Lombardi scoring. Jim Rawers kicked all three extra points. Stellar performances were also turned in by linemen Bob Tucci and Bob Parks.

Pujazon set the pace early in the game as he proceeded to complete ten out of fourteen passes, four of them going for touchdowns, intercept a pass for another tally, and, in general, excel in all phases of the game. McKINLEY 27

Pujazon and Smith Share Scoring Honors, Tally Twice

Fifty years of one of the most outstanding football rivalries in the country came to a fitting climax as the mighty Red and Black gridders of McKinley handed a scrappy Massillon aggregation a 27-0 drubbing. Sparked by the brilliant generalship of "All-Ohio" Joe Pujazon and nimble Hank Smith, McKinley overwhelmed their oldest opponents for Canton's twenty-fourth win since 1894, as against twenty-two defeats and three ties.

Team members who participated in first Canton-Massillon game. Front: Harry Yost and Charles Pumphrey. Back: Fred Justus and Louis Gauchat.

Celebrating the Golden Anniversary of the inter-city rivalry, the Massillon and McKinley bands staged a spectacular half-time performance befitting the ceremony. Members of the original teams which launched the two schools upon the almost legendary rivalry also participated at half-time to lend color and sentiment to the occasion.

McKinley's first score was made early in the first period when Pujazon carried the ball over a few seconds after returning a Bengal punt twenty yards. Hank Smith smashed over for the extra point. Later in the second stanza, Smith again tallied making the score 13-0 at the half. Swiftly in the second half it was Pujazon again who crossed the Massillon line. Then, true to form, Hank Smith rambled through the entire Bengal defense to make certain a McKinley victory.

Honors also went to Jim Rawers who converted two points after touchdown, and Herm Lombardi and Butch Korosedes who played a fine game. The Bulldog line also played excellent ball in keeping the Tigers in check and preventing any score.

50th Anniversary Is Theme of Half-time Performance

An unexcelled half time performance in the history of Stark County was staged by the Massillon and McKinley bands celebrating the 50 Year Anniversary of a rivalry which has made the two schools famous.

Highlighting the performance was the presence of four players on the original teams which launched the two schools on their almost legendary rivalry. Superintendent T. J. Smith of the Massillon schools and Superintendent Jesse H. Mason of the Canton school system spoke about the fine spirit displayed by Massillon and McKinley during their fifty years of football rivalry. The program which honored boys from Stark County now serving in the armed services, will long be remembered as one of the finest chapters in the history of high school sports.

Pujazon scores first tally of the game on an end run. Beautiful blocking by Rawers helped out.

mckinley edged 29-28 in state semi-finals

McKinley played their first tournament game against Youngstown Rayen, having drawn a bye in the opening round. Having beaten the Rayen quintet earlier in the season 59-31, the Bulldogs bounced back to lick them 51-47 on their own stamping grounds.

There was very little means to compare Campbell Memorial, McKinley's next obstacle, with the Bulldogs. However, in the ensuing battle the Bulldog basketeers topped Memorial by a 48-45 decision as little Pete Spera set a new scoring record in South Fieldhouse meshing 24 points. Youngstown South contested McKinley's rights to the sectional championship in vain as the Rearickmen displayed fine team work to smother South 44-29. Rawers and Smith collected 16 and 15 points respectively to spark the Bulldogs.

McKinley next went into the regional play at Zanesville, constituting the first time McKinley had stepped out of Northeastern Ohio play. Little trouble was encountered in the Lancaster five whom the Bulldogs quickly disposed of 58-47. Smith led the scoring with a sensational 23 points. McKinley then proceeded to drub Zanesville 53-39 taking regional honors and advancing to the semi-finals at Toledo.

The Bulldogs' stay in Toledo was short. The Middletown Middies, last year's champions, came big and tough, but nevertheless the Bulldogs tackled them with furious tenacity only to be robbed of a chance at the championship by a "bucket" in the last four seconds of play by a Middie sub.

junior girls basketball

The Junior girls turned out two good teams this year, the Reds and the Whites, with three of its members making the Yale-Harvard teams. In the evenings after school the girls got together in the gym to play against each other and the other classes. Katherine Bibich starred on the Yale team this year and Wanda Plotner and Betty Tygard proved their worth, having made the Harvard team.

The Junior Red team won two games and lost four while the Junior Whites won three games and lost four.

The Junior Red team was made up of forwards—Katherine Bibich, Betty Jacobs, Peggy Hadjian, Mary Anthony, Dorothy Davis and Yula Mangiardo. At guard positions were Betty Tygard, Marjorie Jones, Selvia Douglas, and Loula Argea.

The Junior White team consisted of forwards Gloria Cerreta, Phyllis Stuchel, Jean Binkley, and Despo Theofelactos. The guards were Beverly Whipple, Ethel Bulat, Genevieve Knopsnider, Wanda Plotner and Donna Slusser.

yale squad victorious in annual girls' basketball classic

Taking the lead in the early minutes of the game on a lay-up shot by Betty Skaggs, the Yale all-star team pulled away to a 29-20 victory over Harvard. Playing at forward positions, Martha Carlin and Katherine Bibich sparked the team to victory, meshing eleven and twelve points respectively, while Barbara Howell, Joyce Buchanan, and Bessie Chimples at guard positions contributed much to the cause of the Yale quintet by breaking up numerous Harvard plays and staving off all serious scoring threats. Combining fast floor work and noteworthy team play, Yale captured their first victory since 1943 in the capacity filled music room.

harvard puts up spirited battle but loses to blues

Going into the game as favorites, Harvard's Crimsons fought hard to the final whistle but lacked the all important finesse displayed by the victorious Yale quintet. Jo Barr collected twelve of Harvard's twenty points to pace the Crimson attack with Wanda Plotner and Beverly Gross giving a fine exhibition under the basket. Barbara Smith and Lois Bradley played outstanding defensive games, stealing the ball continually and passing accurately.

Harvard still holds the lead in the nineteen year rivalry, having won ten games as against seven for Yale, with two ties.

girls' booster officers and cheerleaders

In May of 1944, Girl Boosters elected officers to lead the club for this year. Girls earned the right to be nominated by the work which they had done during the year. Every officer, therefore, is a girl who has earned the right to be one.

Cheerleaders were also chosen by the members of the club. Girls are permitted to try out for the honor. Cheerleaders appear at all the games and assemblies and work with the boy cheerleaders in urging on their teams.

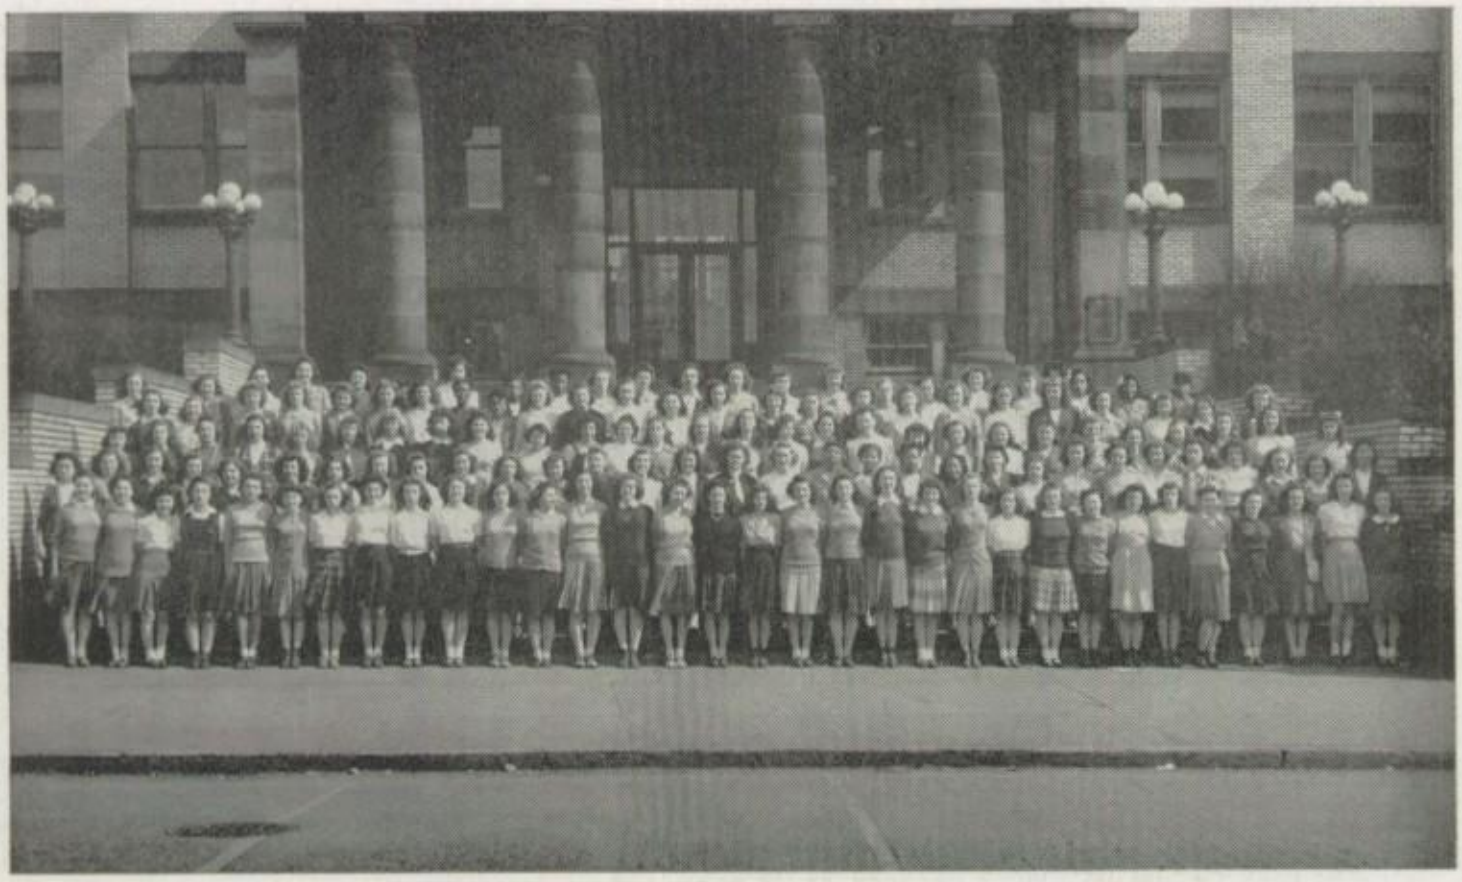
girls' booster representatives

At the beginning of the year each home room selected one girl from its Boosters' members to act as a representative. These girls met on call and received messages and instructions to carry back to their home room Boosters. They carried a great part of the load in planning and putting on the parties. They took charge of the advance sale of the special football program prepared for the Lakewood game. Much of the success of the club depended on them.

. . . efficient and constructive, . . .



senior girls' boosters

More than eight hundred of the eleven hundred fifty girls of McKinley joined Girls' Booster club during the membership drive in the fall. As the girls signed up they indicated their willingness to support actively the projects of the school.

The first activity of the club was the regular attendance at sports events. At the end of football season, the Boosters sponsored a dance in honor of our state championship team. More than six hundred members of the student body paid tribute to the Bulldogs and their coaches.

. . . valuing service more than reward, . . .

Girls Boosters assisted the dramatic, music and publications departments of the school. In December the girls sold more than a thousand tickets for "Old Doc." During the latter part of February and the first week in March they sold more than sixteen hundred fifty tickets for the operetta, "The Desert Song." The annual sales campaign was the final project for the year. More than one hundred seventy-five members became sales girls with the result that more than nine hundred annuals were sold.

. . . trained to appreciate, . . .

Two social events were enjoyed by the girls. In October an all-girl dance was held in the Music Room. At this event a juke box furnished music for dancing. The girls received favors and refreshments were served. In April a party was held jointly with the Boys' Booster Club. Members who had done active work for the different organizations of the school were eligible to attend. An orchestra provided music for the dancing. At this party, too, favors were given and refreshments were served.

freshmen girls' boosters

Money for gifts of the club was made by selling pencils, pennants and card cases. Bouquets were presented to the majorettes at the McKinley-Massillon game. Gardenia corsages were given to the club officers and cheerleaders at the football dance. Ten dollars was donated to Red Cross fund. On Class Night a medal is presented to the most representative Booster. The outstanding gifts of the year were a projector machine and a movie sound machine, presented to the school for class room work.

One of the most faithful and most necessary of the groups of girls in McKinley was the group which ushered and sold programs at McKinley's home football games. These girls were on duty an hour and a half before the beginning of each game and worked until every program was sold and every fan was ushered to his seat. All of them volunteered their services before each game. The girls pictured above worked at more than half of the games played in Fawcett Stadium.

girls' boosters prize winners

Almost all of the members of Girls' Booster club took part in the different selling campaigns. In the pencil selling contests a prize of a dollar was awarded to the high sales girls in each class. A prize was given to the girl selling the largest number of football dance tickets. Prizes were given to the girls topping the sales records in the play and operetta campaigns. All girls who sold at least ten annuals received a prize. The girls pictured are the club's 1944-45 prize winners.

boys' booster officers and cheerleaders

The Boys' Booster club marked the preview of an inspiring club under the controlling hands of Mr. Lemasters. Being the same in purpose and in spirit this year's Boosters introduced the successful means of electing their officers by ballot. The advantage of this method was to get the members acquainted with the candidate. Pep and enthusiasm were added to the games by the cheerleaders. The boys are chosen by the Boys' Leaders club because of their excellence in tumbling and must have a favorable scholastic average.

Any game or contest not only needs the contestants to compete in it, but it needs the school spirit and loyal backing to send the team into a contest to come out on top. By the looks of scores in sports as well as other activities the Boys' Boosters have been doing their part. Many more throats and hoarse voices have been developed from Section 6 at the stadium and the south end zone in the music room. The Boosters are the main cog in the wheel of victory so let's appreciate the fine work contributed by the Boys' Booster club.

Summing up the activities of the club we find that besides conscientiously supporting all the projects of the school and taking an active part in the football and and basketball pep rallies, the Boosters helped stage the annual football game dance in honor of a great team that won the mythical state championship. In the spring a joint Boy-Girl Booster party was held in which those attending danced and played games. Music was furnished by a local orchestra. An amusing program was presented by the entertainment committee.

After a well planned membership campaign the secretary, Dick Fryfogle, brought forth a picture that hasn't been equaled in a great many years. The numerous freshmen as well as sophomores, juniors, and seniors dug into their pockets and joined the drive that made this club the second largest in the school with a total of 508 members. The dues of twenty-five cents are controlled by treasurer Don Hobson and will be used in the annual spring dance April 8.

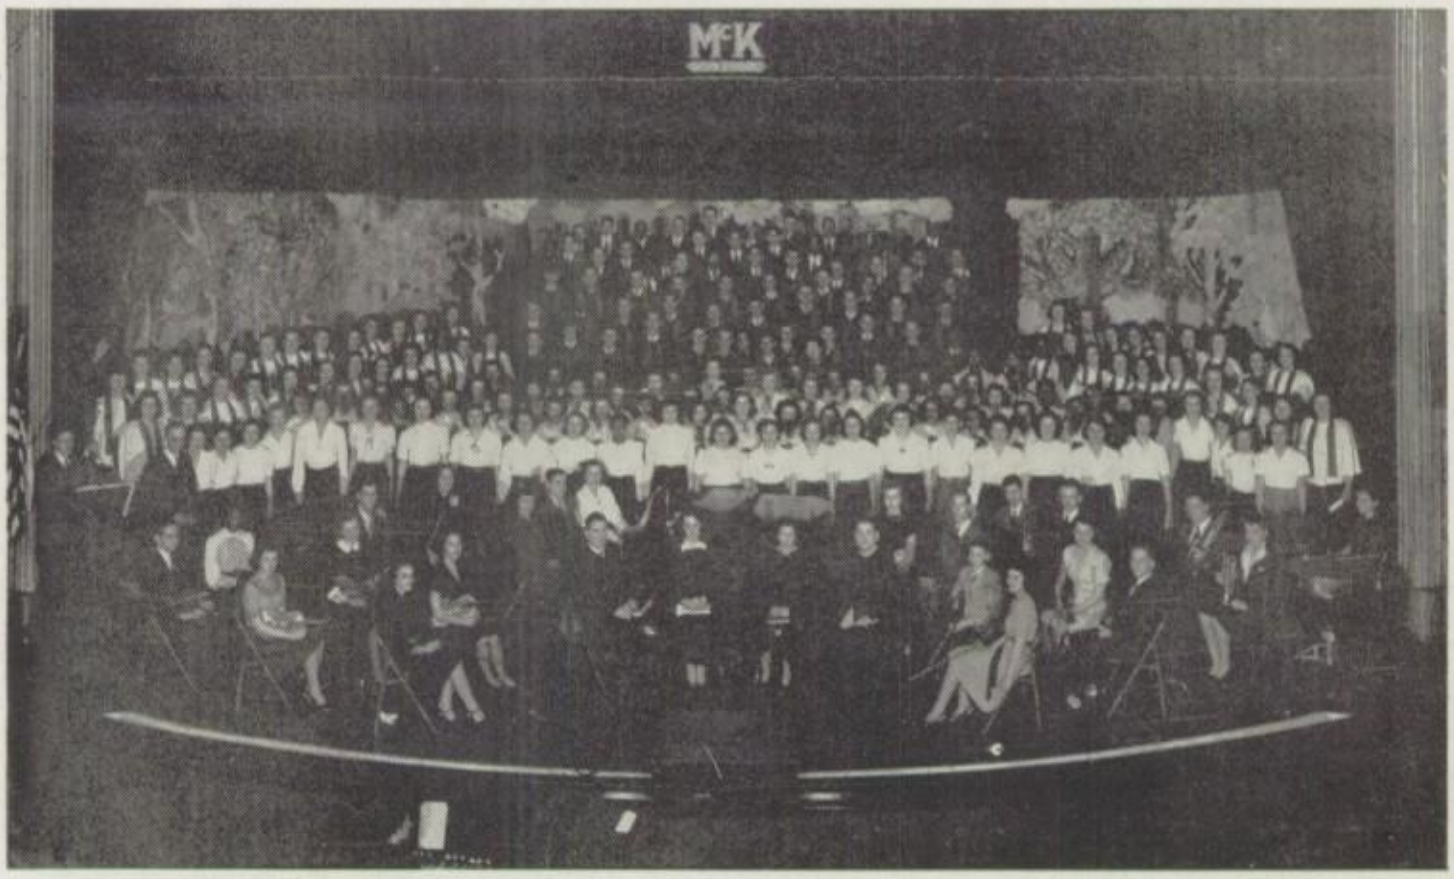
From a distant part of the building floats the melody of "Adeste Fideles" and McKinleyites grow quiet to listen to beloved Christmas carols. The singing grows more distinct as the carolers ascend to the third floor, and, dressed in black robes and carrying candles, the procession passes our home room. A few minutes later the bell rings and the Christmas holiday has begun; every student leaves with the Christmas spirit in his heart, thanks to the eighty members of the Choral club.

The Choral club also sang at Christmas (with the school choruses), the choral selections of "The Messiah," Other activities of this group included singing for the football banquet, The Canton Teachers' Association, commencement, a spring festival, the Woman's club, and the choral selections of "The Desert Song."



presenting . . . "the messiah"

Director L. D. Hanson raised his baton, a hush fell throughout the audience, the McKinley Festival chorus of 220 voices stood at attention, and the orchestra began playing the well-loved strains of Handel's "Messiah." McKinley's Choral club had gone on the air and WHBC was bringing "The Messiah" to listeners throughout Northern Ohio, as well as to music lovers of Canton, who filled the McKinley High School auditorium that Sunday afternoon of December 10th. Guest artists were Kathleen Carter, soprano; Jean McCuskey, contralto; Jack Bartchy, tenor, and Martin Alexander, baritone. The four soloists, each of whom has received recognition for musical abilities, are graduates of McKinley High School. In keeping with the Christmas season the concert was open to the public.

choral club presents romberg's operetta, "the desert song"

"One of the most polished performances ever given by McKinley or any other amateur group in Canton" was what was said about this year's operetta, "The Desert Song."

Thursa Blystone and Fred Coukart were superb in the leading roles as Margo and the Red Shadow. Those assisting were Bob Pratt, Pat Wilson, Jean Binkley, Fran Jakmides, Wally Davis, and Leland Oestreich among other parts.

The story took place in Morocco where Margot flees to marry Paul, but falls in love with the Red Shadow. The latter kidnaps her and takes her to the place of Ali Ben Ali where comedy, duels, adventure and romance develop.

Stage Craft boys, directed by Miss Martha Bozman, built beautiful sets for the operetta and the dramatic part of the production was smoothly directed by Miss Iris Haverstack.

mckinley orchestra plays at school productions

The 1944-45 orchestra has had another successful season with twenty-nine members participating in the organization. Activities throughout the year were furnishing music for the class play, "Old Doc," and supplying the accompaniment for the annual spring operetta, "Desert Song," given by the choral club. They played for Class Night, Baccalauerate, and at the Senior Commencement.

The orchestra with the Choral Club provided melodious entertainment at the Spring Festival.

To develop a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics among high school boys and girls, and to provide a suitable reward for excellence attained in high school dramatics, is the purpose of the Thespian Club. All of the members aided in the production of the play, "Old Doc," which was given in the school auditorium on December 2. The members forgot their grease-paint and scripts long enough for a party at Christmas and picnic in the spring.

national forensic league cops state, district titles

National Forensic League is a nation-wide honorary speech society and its members, by attending the various speech meets and compiling a sufficient number of points, are enabled to achieve degrees of merit, honor, excellence and distinction. This is the nineteenth year for the McKinley chapter, and it has a membership of thirty-four. The chapter participated in eight individual events tournaments, and nine debate tournments.

In the annual Eastern Ohio National Forensic League Tournament, the McKinley Chapter took the Sweepstakes award for the third time in the last four years. They also were awarded the debate trophy for the fourth time in five years.

varsity debate squad wins state championship

McKinley's debate squad broke its jinx this year by winning the Ohio State championship for the first time. Patricia Foltz and Barbara Howell also broke a precedent by being the first two girls to win the State title.

The state's top "arguers" also won the National Forensic League debate title for the third straight year, thus breaking another record.

Patricia Foltz and Barbara Howell were able to debate both sides of the question Resolved: "That the Legal Voting Age Should Be Lowered to 18" while Richard Hinterleiter and Richard Hostetler concentrated on the offensive, and Jean Grosenbaugh and Louis Fernandez on the the negative.

This is the third time that Mr. C. M. Schindler has guided his debaters to the State Finals. In 1941 and 1944 they placed second.

latin club takes part in latinweek program

To give the members a better knowledge of Roman customs and ideas is the purpose of the Latin Club. The group is composed of students who maintain an average of 85 per cent in Latin. Featured on their programs were: a colorful party at Christmas time, speeches, songs, plays, and games centered around Latin ways of life. The club celebrated Latin week by holding a court trial on the radio. Concluding the year, they forgot the drudgery of school and held a picnic.

This newly founded club was organized to inspire Spanish students with an interest in Spanish literature. The club is composed of Miss Bowser's Spanish students. At monthly meetings, members played games in Spanish, sang Spanish songs and listened to Spanish records. The officers of the club conducted the meetings in Spanish and members conversed in Spanish, thus acquiring facility in the use of that language. A party was given in May to complete the year's activities.

chemistry club

Opening the vast fields of science to its members, the Chemistry Club was once again organized by its adviser, Miss Leota Clarke. Meetings were held once every month at which time a new and different experiment was performed by members of the club who were farther advanced in the subject. The club also benefited by acting as a "clearinghouse" for new discoveries in the chemistry world.

In the social sphere, the group had a merry Yuletide party and climaxed the year with an elaborate picnic.

stagecraft club

The Stagecraft Club, more commonly called "Miss Martha Bozman's Wrecking Crew," constructed some brilliant and beautiful settings for the operetta, "The Desert Song" and class play, "Old Doc." At class parties the club handled the lighting and stage properties. Many hours were spent by this club hammering, sawing, painting, and constructing settings. They collected their successes at the end of the year at a dinner party.

boys' leaders

This year the Boys' Leaders Club had a membership of 45 boys who, physically, were not as big as in past years, but were good workers. The main event of the year was a Spring Gym Exhibition held in the music room. Other activities included a hayride, three playnights and a successful dance with the Girls' Leaders. Winding up the year they had a picnic, and officers for the ensuing year were chosen. The object of the club is to give the boys training in leadership and develop good body coordination.

girls' service league

Highlighted by a very active season, this club was of great benefit to the school. Serving as guides during the first week of school, the girls were of great assistance to many bewildered freshmen. Other activities the girls took part in were ushering at the senior class play, the operetta, class night, and at the commencement exercises. To be a member of the league an average of 90 must be maintained during four years and then be elected by the members.

An opportunity to meet more people and to cultivate new manners was offered the thirty-two members of the Etiquette Club. Helpful pamphlets were distributed at various meetings, and discussions were held concerning correct social conduct. Represented by a member from each home room, the Junior Red Cross was very active in helping with the war effort. The club is responsible for collecting sales stamps and selling war bonds and stamps. At Christmas time members helped service groups by making menu covers, utility bags, and slippers. They also organized Home Nursing, Nutrition and Canteen classes to help in civilian projects after the war. Several girls were sent to Fletcher General Hospital to do miscellaneous work to help war veterans.

victory corps

The Victory Corps, which has extended its membership from 70 to 100 girls in its second year in existence, has successfully fulfilled its pledge, "I will efficiently perform any community war services within the limits of my ability and experience." A six week-shift has been worked out in order that each member may work at the Mercy Hospital wrapping bandages and doing relief duty at th desk during the dinner hours.

To qualify for the Victory Corps, the consent of the parents must be obtained and all grades must be passing.

home nursing students

The Home Nursing class was taught by Mrs. Virginia Unkefer, a graduate of McKinley High and Mercy Hospital, with Mrs. Cora Daily as assistant instructor. Learning to make a bed properly, how to take temperatures, giving a patient a bath in bed, how to take care of sick people with contagious diseases, and how to make a bed with a patient in it were some of things taught the class. The class had several movies and took trips to Mercy Hospital as part of its program. This class with a membership of twenty-four girls was the third one to have been organized by Miss Shumaker.

canteen course students

Seventeen girls and three McKinley teachers took this Red Cross course for which members had to have passed the Nutrition course. Canteen workers learned about the preparation of food on a large scale. Practical experience was received once a month when members reported to the First Presbyterian church to serve with the Blood Donor unit. In this group they served food to persons who had contributed blood, and they cooked and served dinner to the medical staff from Cleveland. In the event of a disaster, such as a flood, tornado, or cyclone, Canteen workers would be called upon to solve food problems.

freshmen—after their first day at school

This is M. C. Kinley bringing you a resume of past events at McKinley High School, Canton, Ohio.

SEPTEMBER 1944

Once again the school was beseiged by freshmen. The invaders struck Wednesday the sixth at 8:15 a.m. They came on eight hundred strong. The walls shook for days and a collection was taken to repair the crack in the foundation. Members of the Girls' Service League stood on guard at the four corners of each floor for a week in an attempt to regulate the invaders. Finally partial success was gained. The school settled into its normal routine of assemblies, Red Cross meetings, elections of representatives, councilmen and officers.

Friday the fifteenth was the first red letter day. Teachers from all the city schools assembled to distribute gas ration coupons and so the pupils got their first, much needed, vacation. Also on Friday the Varsity Eleven played Akron South for the first game of the season. The game was at Fawcett Stadium and the McKinleyites turned out full strength to cheer their team to victory.

Then came the time change. Sunday the twenty-fourth, it was ordained by high officials, the nation would turn back its clocks one hour.

Janie O'Toole, McKinley freshman, had forgotten all about the change (she and seven hundred ninety-nine freshmen). Sunday evening Janie went to bed at her usual bed-time and didn't turn the clock back to seven. The freshman class got a bad start on the rest of the student body Monday morning.

OCTOBER 1944

"All freshmen are hereby promoted to the rank of General Nuisance"; this command was issued by high officials. As a result of this order the freshman girls were entertained by the Girls' Service League in the Music Room. The program consisted of talent from various home rooms.

"Romeo, Romeo . . . " Would-be dramatists began brushing up on Shakespeare as play tryouts started. After proving their histrionic abilities, successful students chosen for the play, began work in earnest.

Wednesday the eleventh everyone was happy. The reason for all the goodwill being that there was no detention as a result of the teachers' lecture in the auditorium.

cheering the team at the Massillon game

Girls' Booster Club got the jump on other groups by holding the first party of the year on Saturday the twenty-first. Although the freshman girls outnumbered the upper classmen, a fine time was had by all.

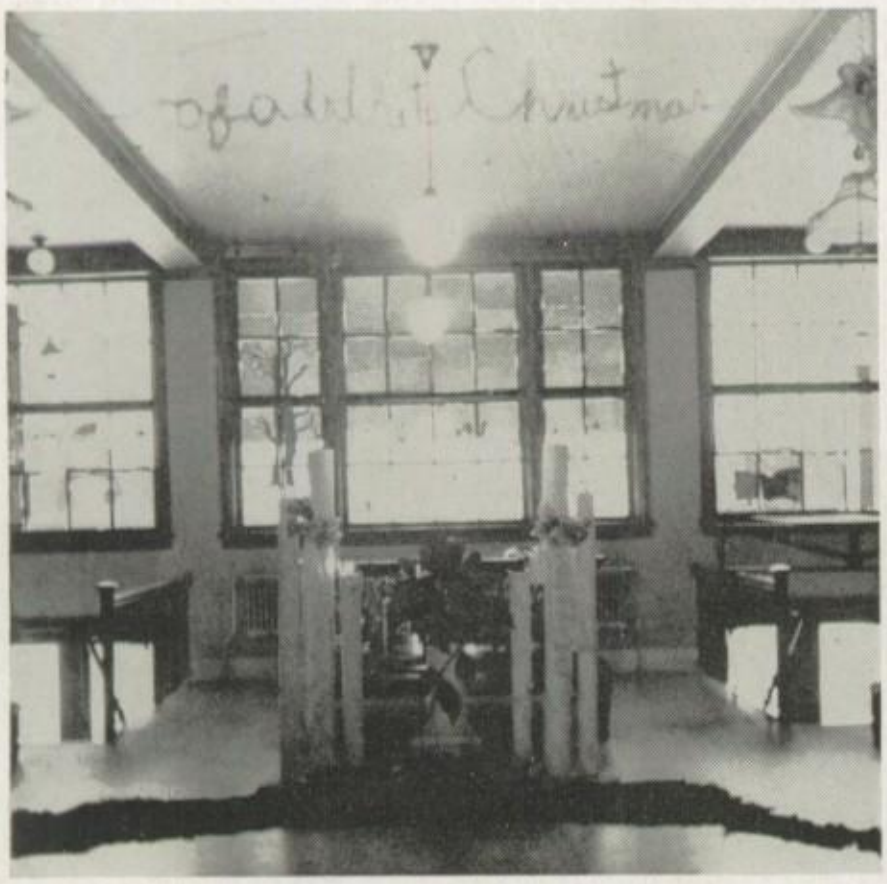
The next Wednesday the underclassmen had an assembly on "How to Study" by Dr. C. B. Allen and that same day, after school, they were given the material results of their first six weeks of toil. After gazing at their patriotic report cards many of them decided that they had needed the lecture by Dr. Allen.

A great many of the teachers treked off to Cleveland on the twenty-seventh for the annual meeting of the Northeastern Ohio Teachers Association. To our knowledge no student suffered from shock when the announcement was made that we had the day off.

NOVEMBER 1944

Signs began to appear mysteriously that read "Only 17 More Days Until The Massillon Game," "Renew the 3 Mill Levy," "Vote for Roosevelt," or "Are You A Democrat?"

Annual Open House was held on the second at seven in the evening. Parents and friends were invited and it was rumored that even a kitten wandered in, in search of lessons on "The Art of Catching Mice." Pupils showed parents their classrooms (always taking the long way so that their parents would understand when they came home too tired to help with the dishes) and introduced their teachers (only the ones in whose rooms they had been well-behaved).



the front hall at Christmas time

The weekend after election proved to be a big one, what with seniors paying off election bets by rolling peanuts around the halls with their noses. Also adding to events were the juniors and seniors who held their first joint party on the tenth and the next day the crowning of the football queen at the Lakewood game. Saturday's weather was perfect and the ceremony at half-time was very colorful and impressive. Pat Wilson made a charming queen as she presided over the rest of the game from her throne near the west goal.

Although it officially never happens, the entire school was in an uproar for the Massillon Game Rally on Friday the seventeenth. Cheers, songs, and speeches of goodwill lasted until the beginning of fourth period. In the afternoon the traditional parade was held with everyone joining in the fun. When the Bulldog Eleven captured a 27-0 victory all McKinley fans were filled with the kind of joy that words cannot describe.

ten minutes before exams begin

DECEMBER 1944

Still thrilled over the score of the Massillon game, pupils turned out to watch McKinley's Bergmans and Crosby's perform in "Old Doc." Under the direction of Miss Iris Haverstack, the play was a great success.

Again the calibre of McKinley's activities was shown when the choral department presented Handel's "Messiah." This presentation was given Sunday the tenth at three in the afternoon and was broadcast over WHBC. The stage was filled with the Senior Choral Club, two chorus classes, the orchestra, four soloists, and the director, Mr. Leslie D. Hanson.

The Stage Craft boys made their presence felt by their Christmas decorations in the front hall. Directed by Miss Martha Bozman the group installed large candles, tinseled greetings, and colorful window scenes.

Both of the underclasses held their first parties in December. The sophomores were permitted an evening party on the ninth while the freshmen (who hadn't gotten accustomed to late hours yet) held a tea dance on the next Wednesday.

To add to the spirit of Christmas the Choral Club presented the traditional caroling through the halls on the fifteenth, the last day of school in 1944.

While most of the school settled down to a peaceful vacation over the Christmas holidays the basketball team kept in trim by defeating Youngstown South and Alliance.

Christmas came with, if not "peace on earth," at least "good will" among McKinleyites.

JANUARY 1945

A cloud of gloom descended upon all McKinley students and teachers as a nasty old coal shortage prevented them from returning from Christmas vacation until the eighth, an entire week of unexpected vacation. Is it any wonder they were sad?

ouch! time for t.b. tests behind the scenes taking pictures for the annual

So the month of January continued. Study, study, study, trying to make up for that lost week of school (so the teachers told them).

Came the long awaited days of examinations—days that will live in infamy. The twenty-fourth, fifth and sixth were the dates chosen for those periods of horror. During those three long depressing days pupils could be seen moving wearily through the halls; others (having finished their last exam) collapsed from exhaustion, still others could be seen coming out of classrooms with the dazed look of one who has just passed an exam. These last were few and far between.

FEBRUARY 1945

The entire student body decided to stop going to Haupt's (formerly Heggy's) for the duration of Lent. This decision caused quite a disturbance with the management of that store as they protested that they would be forced to close from the lack of business. Being humane souls the students decided that rather than let Haupt's go out of business they would find some other things to do without during Lent.

On the twenty-third the swimming team was off to Columbus for the state meet. The boys decided that it would be rather useless to go down to Columbus and come back empty handed so they won the meet and carried back a beautiful trophy for the showcase.

Gray hairs began to appear overnight on the heads of the senior geniuses who hoped to make National Honor Society. The committee began holding their meeting to determine those who were to have the honor. For some unknown reason, about this time, various faculty members began finding strange gifts of fruit and candy on their desks.

MARCH 1945

The annual Yale-Harvard game took place on the ninth with Yale the season's victors. All who attended the game in the Music Room witnessed some really good playing. After the game the girls entertained several guests at a banquet and were presented with silver basketballs.

McKinley's speech department held one of their most important tournaments the sixteenth and seventeenth. Both debate and individual events were held with sweepstake points being awarded on a basis of team work. The rotating trophy won by Ravenna last year, was gained by McKinley and will be held until next year.

Juniors and seniors held their second party on the sixteenth. The party was held to a rather simple theme as the juniors were conserving for the big splurge on the prom.

All during the month the basketball squad was battling its way through sectional, district and regional tournaments and on the twenty-fourth gained the state semi-finals at Toledo. Everyone was pepped up over their success and expected a state championship. The boys did their best at Toledo but Mr. Jinx was performing at the gym exhibition

"May I have this dance?"—the junior-senior prom

there to and we bowed to Middletown in the semi-finals.

APRIL 1945

Boy and girl Boosters held their joint party on the sixth. All boy Boosters were eligible to attend but the girls had to work for their good time by participating in one of the club's numerous campaigns. The lazy ones get around this ruling by getting themselves invited by boy Boosters. Nice work if you can get it!

Those participating in the gym exhibition reached the culmination of weeks of practice when they presented their exhibition on the twentieth. After all the practice everyone was so toughened up that they could even walk off the floor. Proud parents watched their athletes perform. Both the boys and girls' Leaders presented special drills which consisted of marching and special gymnastic feats.

Seniors began to realize that they were beginning their last complete month of school. Although they were anxious to graduate they were nevertheless a little sad when they thought of leaving McKinley. Most of them began dashing around to all events, trying not to miss a single thing in their last month of high school.

The Junior-Senior Prom was of course the highlight of the month. Girls began experimenting with new hairdos and new shades of lipstick and boys began saving their money for the big affair. For weeks before the eleventh the conversations among upperclassmen centered around prom dates and clothes and such. When the time finally arrived the affair was pronounced a success by all.

Exams for seniors began on the twenty-ninth with time out on the thirtieth for Memorial Day vacation and continued for the next two days.

Although there was only one week of school in June it was certainly a busy one.

Seniors held class night exercises on Friday the first. After having practiced four or five times in May for this evening the exercises were performed to a degree of perfection.

Baccalaureate vespers were held on Sunday in the school auditorium. Seniors and their friends heard a very interesting and stirring sermon.

Graduation exercises took place on the sixth with a few tears and many sad goodbyes. Seniors realized that although their four years of high school were over they had been through an experience they would never forget.

And so the year at McKinley High School ended. It was a full year, filled with joy, sorrow, monotony and special occasions, mild dislikes and lasting friendships. Year after year, it will continue. Each class will make its mark and McKinley will be a better school for having housed them just as they will be better people for having known the Spirit of McKinley.

YES, there'll be a Post-War Hoover. But right now, we're trying to finish up a dirty piece of business a paper hanger and a certain son of a Son of Heaven started a few years ago.

Until Victory, we want to load the guns our boys are shooting with—not "jump the gun" on what they're fighting for.

We think a few fellows on some muddy fields in Europe and in some steaming jungles in the Pacific will understand what we mean.

CHEERS instead of SMEARS

SANI-FLUSH takes all the drudgery out of toilet sanitation. It removes rust, stains and smears where toilet germs lodge. No scrubbing. No unpleasant work. Each application cleans away a cause of toilet odors. Don't confuse Sani-Flush with ordinary cleaners. It works chemically. Cleans the hidden trap. Sold everywhere.

STAR PUPIL
IN HOME CLEANING

You can't stump this little lady on questions about home cleanliness. Here's a subject in which she really shines. Every year, she helps thousands of new housewives get started right on whiter washes . . . sparkling homes. Little Miss Climalene is thrifty too . . . saves time . . . saves work . . . saves soap.

SWEATERS WASH SOFT AND FLUFFY!

• No wonder school girls say "Savex is Swell' for washing sweaters soft and fluffy. For Savex is The Soapless Sudser. Not a trace of soap scum to dull washable fabrics. It's the jiffy way to wash woolens, hose and undies. Makes dishes sparkle, too, without the bother of wiping them.
